FCC Form 481 Section 600 - Functionality in Emergency Situations

Under FCC Rules, an ETC must demonstrate its ability to remain functional in emergency situations. Since Telrite Corporation d/b/a Life Wireless (Telrite) is providing service to its customers through the use of facilities obtained from other carriers, it is able to provide to its customers the same ability to remain functional in emergency situations as currently provided by the carriers to their own customers, including access to a reasonable amount of back-up power to ensure functionality without an external power source, re-routing traffic around damaged facilities, and the capability of managing traffic spikes resulting from emergency situations.

Telrite, along with their underlying carriers, have created back-up systems to ensure functionality in the event of a loss of power or network functionality. Telrite maintains its own diesel-powered backup generator at their switching facility in Georgia. All systems within the facility are implemented on redundant servers, each with redundant data network and power.

Telrite Corporation d|b|a Life Wireless does not have facilities in any state other than Georgia. It relies on the facilities of the underlying carrier in each state it provides service to demonstrate its own ability to function in emergency situations.

When a number is identified by a 911 dispatch center as belonging to an underlying carrier, the officer would call the underlying carrier who can assist with tracing the distressed caller or other network information. In the event further customer proprietary network information (CPNI) is needed to reach the distressed 911 caller, the underlying carrier would then direct the officer to contact the reseller, Life Wireless. All underlying carriers that Telrite utilizies have the contact number on file for Telrite d|b|a Life Wireless' customer service department.

When customer service receives a call from a 911 dispatch center, the call will be forwarded to a supervisor. The supervisor will require proof of identity generally by fax or email. After the officer and request is verified as an emergency situation, the information is released immediately. If the "officer" cannot be identified, a subpoena or court order is required.
